

Ambassade d'Haïti en Italie

Joanas Gué
Ministry of Agriculture for Natural Resources and Rural Development
Haiti

2008: Minister of Agriculture

Mr. Gué is in charge of building the necessary structure to help create a new business environment conducive to private investment in agriculture. In addition, he is responsible for agricultural policy and bio-energy and in the development of a new agricultural policy in the context of globalization.

September 2006 to 2008: Secretary of State, Ministry of Agriculture for Natural Resources and Rural Development.

2004: Technical Director, Hurricane Jeanne Reconstruction Program (HJRP) for Artibonite and the North West.

2002: Field Technical Coordinator, HILLSIDE Agricultural Program (HAP) in the North East of Haiti.

2001: Regional Coordinator, HILLSIDE Agricultural Program (HAP)

1992: Team Leader, PRODUCTIVE LAND USE SYSTEMS (PLUS) in the Bas Plateau Central

1985: Agronomic Engineer, Graduated from the Faculty of Agronomy and Veterinary Medicine of Port-au-Prince, HAITI

Joanas Gué participated in different Training in Honduras, Costa Rica, USA, Colombia (CIAT), Brazil, Italy and Bahamas.

During the last fifteen years his formal expertise has been: project and natural resources Management, Improvement of germplasm of cereal and pulses, strengthening institutions and management of agricultural production in the following Non Governmental Organizations (NGO) : Pan-American Development Foundation (PADF) and Development Alternatives Inc (DAI).