Operational Updates

- Launch of the Zero Hunger Strategic Review
  - Following months of excessive preparation, WFP Sudan is gearing up to officially launch the Zero Hunger Strategic Review (Country Strategic Review). The launch ceremony will take place in January 2018 and will be endorsed by the Vice President and relevant Ministers. The event will be attended by a wide number of stakeholders, government officials, and international/national agencies.

- The campaign for 16 Days of Activism to end Gender-Based Violence (GBV) - WFP celebrated the 16 days campaign of GBV as a joint event with the Government, UN and NGOs. As a part of the campaign meetings were organised for the communities and schools by Area offices and sub-offices.

- WFP started a Verification Exercise for the South Sudanese Refugees (SSRs) in the eight camps across White Nile state. To avoid a situation where food is handed to unintended beneficiaries, WFP is undertaking the verification exercise for South Sudanese Refugees in White Nile state to ensure correct beneficiary coverage for the three months covering the harvesting season. The exercise is completed during November, and the results could impact distributions from December onward.

Highlights

- DFID confirmed the US$42.6 million (GBP 32.5 million) multi-year contribution for the implementation of cash-based transfers.

- WFP Sudan Country Director was on two missions to Nairobi, Kenya. The first, was to meet with regional based organisations to review the humanitarian needs in Sudan People’s Liberation Movement – North SPLM-N controlled areas of Blue Nile and South Kordofan States. The second mission was to meet with WFP Regional Bureau team in Nairobi and RBN eight Country Directors present the Sudan CO experience of rolling out the “Integrated Road Map”.

• Assessment of South Sudanese refugees residing in out-of-camp settings in open areas in Khartoum was recently completed. WFP is an active partner - alongside UNHCR, UNFPA, WHO and UNICEF - in assessing the needs of Sudan's South Sudanese refugee population in out-of-camp settings in open areas in Khartoum. The effort intends to assess: health facilities; nutrition, food security and livelihood activities; access to potable water; access to sanitary facilities; shelter, protection, education and registration needs of the refugees. A final report with recommendations for each sector, is expected to be released by the end of 2017.

• Multi-Purpose Cash proposal in Kreinik camp in West Darfur: WFP has been selected as an eligible agency to apply for the Protracted Displacement Pilot proposal under the Sudan Humanitarian Fund 2017. The objective is to increase self-reliance of vulnerable internally displaced persons (IDPs) through a multi-purpose cash grant, which should be complementary to the on-going food assistance.

• National Food consumption study 2016 - the launch workshop of National Food Consumption Study was organized by the Food Security Technical Secretariat on 12 December and shared the countrywide results related to food consumption, agriculture and livelihood.

• On 27 November, a trial convoy carrying 500MT of sorghum arrived safely in Aweil, South Sudan from El Obeid, Sudan for the first time. This trial marks the successful opening of a new route through which WFP can transport humanitarian assistance from Sudan to South Sudan.

• WFP Sudan Country Director was on two missions to Nairobi, Kenya. The first, was a joint mission with the Humanitarian Coordinator, OCHA, UNICEF WHO to meet with regional based organisations to review the humanitarian needs in Sudan People's Liberation Movement – North SPLM-N controlled areas of Blue Nile and South Kordofan States. The second mission, was to meet with WFP Regional Bureau team in Nairobi and RBN eight Country Directors to present the Sudan CO experience of rolling out the “Integrated Road Map”.

Challenges

- Humanitarian access to conflict zones remains severely restricted. Violence, food insecurity, malnutrition, and lack of access to basic services have caused large-scale internal displacement.

- 89 percent of WFP fleet trucks were available for use during the month of November, however only 55 percent of the available capacity was utilized. This was due to local procurement challenges, which affected the availability of food for regional and field offices.

Donor Relations

- DFID confirmed the US$ 42.6 million multi-year contribution. An agreement was signed on 15 November with DFID proposal covering the period November 2017 to October 2020 to 'Support vulnerable IDPs and Refugee populations in Sudan to meet their basic food needs by providing general food assistance and food assistance-for-assets through cash and voucher transfer modalities’. The contribution also includes US$ 1.3million for UNHAS and US$ 1.3 million to South Sudanese Refugees and IDPs in Jebel Marra.

- Following on from the urgent appeal sent by the Sudan Resident Coordinator on behalf of the UN Humanitarian Air Service on 15 November, UNHAS received a remarkable response in terms of contributions from UK-DFID, USAID-OFDA, Swedish-SIDA and Swiss-SDC. As such, UNHAS in Sudan will now be securely funded until the end of April 2018.

- Sudan CO received an additional funding from Japan ($1.5 million) for ongoing voucher assistance in Darfur
